A FACT PROVEN.
Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.
It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ-which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Will be Celebrated Today by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Reynolds—Family Dinner and Reception Planned.

Their golden wedding anniversary will be observed today by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Reynolds at their comfortable home, No. 89 Shetucket street.
Forty-two years ago last June they moved from the Falls to Shetucket street and has lived there ever since, but formerly on the other side of the street, the house being moved over to make more barn and stable room for the widely known livery business in which Mr. Reynolds has been engaged for half a century, starting with a hack and a pair of horses fifty years ago at the Falls.

Family Dinner and Reception.
The observance of the day will be with a family dinner at 5 p. m., at which all the members of the family will be present, and then in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will receive all their many friends, giving them a royal welcome. As both Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are in the best of health and vigor they will enter heartily into all the pleasant hours of the day. One especially pleasant feature of the anniversary will be the attendance of three of their friends who were present at the wedding fifty years ago, when Mr.

Forty-five years ago he moved to the stable now occupied by William F.
Bailey in Bath street, and three years after that on June 12th to his present location on Shetucket street. Thirty-five years ago he built what is now the city hall to run a stable in connection with his Shetucket street place, but about two years later he sold this to Charles McChesney, who was then located in the Allen stable on Church street.

Driven for Prominent People.
In his long term of business life Mr.
Reynolds has seen his hack and livery business grow from the single hack and team with which he started to a patronsage that demanded from ten to eleven hacks and thirty to thirty-five horses at its best, but not so many are required now. His acquaintance has been a wide one and has brought him honors which befit him as the most prominent reinman of the city. From President Grant down he has handled the four horse teams which have driven the distinguished guests of the anniversary and various functions in this city. President Grant was met at the Norwich and Worcester station with a four horse team and driven to government. The same day Mr. Reynolds company also saw the Libby Valve and Packing company of East Lyme to recover on a note of $150.

To recover the note of $150, H. F.
& A. J. Dawley of Norwich bring suit against the New London Iron and Metal company of New London, damages claimed being $1,000.

Jennie Fretut of Voluntown asks for a divorce from Nelson Fretut of Hills prove, R. I., on the grounds of desertion.
They were married March 15, 1895, and he deserted her on March 15, 1904. Her maiden name was Jennie Butts.

George Geraps of New York sues Abraham Goldstein of East Lyme and others for the foreclosure of a mortgage amounting to $1,000.
Alice Lee of New York brings suit against William E. Goss of East Lyme to recover the sum of $7,000, the price of a piece of property which was mortgaged for that amount, and a foreclosure is desired.

William H. Wait and Hannah A.
Babcock of New York sue George P.
Fenner et al. The Babcock Printing company of New London, for $5,000 damages and ask that a receiver be appointed for said company, that the corporation be dissolved, and that George P. Fenner be held to resign and transfer to said trustee all patents procured at the expense of the company and standing in his name.
They also ask for a decree declaring void the attempted adoption of new by-laws of the said company and all transfers of stock made on or after July 4, 1904.

The plaintiff was a brother-in-law of Nathan Babcock, who prior to 1882 manufactured printing presses in New London, and after 1882 in Norwich.
Fenner, a nephew, as draughtsman, and by agreement Nathan, Daniel and Stephen Babcock, W. B. Wait, G. B.
Fenner and C. B. Mason entered into a partnership.

It is claimed an attempt was made to transfer the stock of the company in April, 1903, without first giving the others an option at the same price, which was contrary to their agreement.

Many patents necessary for the carrying on of the business were transferred to Nathan Babcock and others as trustees and the trust was broken.
It is claimed that Mr. Fenner presented the election of Mr. Wait as a director of the company, which has done a profitable business and has a large surplus, last April.

It is claimed that many of the defendant stockholders are holders of stock in the treasury and that Director Wait was refused information of the company affairs.

W. F. Whipple of Gaiswold sues R.
Bronstein of Griswold for $5,000 to recover on property sold and delivered to the defendant.

"Ever since my first experience with highly. Its use has saved me a great deal of suffering. My experience with various remedies taught me that many of them being good in one way will not the case with Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from N. D. Sevin &
